Village Manager Yocelyn Galiano appointed to serve on the FCCMA Ethics Committee

Pinecrest, FL – Village Manager Yocelyn Galiano has been appointed to serve on the Florida City and County Management Association's (FCCMA) Ethics Committee. FCCMA President and Orange Park, FL Town Manager Jim Hanson made the appointment which was announced at the association's 2018 conference in Orlando, FL this week.

"Ethics are the cornerstone of our profession," said Manager Galiano. "Maintaining the highest ethical standards are the main tenets of ICMA and FCCMA and are essential to the development and maintenance of professionalism and excellence in local government," she added.

The Ethics Committee is a standing committee established by the association's by-laws. It is comprised of seven members appointed to a four-year term by the outgoing president at the annual conference. Terms are staggered. The members select their own chair each year.
